

Charges of Arson Face Man, 20, for Blaze in Hazelton

JEROME, July 28—David Michael Ryan, 20, Hazelton, was placed under $10,000 bond Thursday by Probate Judge Theron Ward and is being held in the Jerome county jail for district court action on charges of second degree arson in connection with the destruction by fire of the First Segregation News plant in Hazelton on July 1. Ryan, a former employee of the Hazelton weekly newspaper, has admitted setting fire to The News plant building.

Snake River Bridge

A contract to erect a bridge across the Snake river was signed Wednesday night by the Hillsdale highway district with Nielsen and Smith, Twin Falls. The 160-foot span is to be erected at a cost of $10,000. The Hillsdale and Mullanigh highway districts are putting up $7,500 of the money needed and the balance is being provided by subscription. Erection of the bridge is the culmination of efforts by Ralph Balsch, chairman of the Hillsdale district, and Edgard

They were discovered by Paul Snyder, Barlow's foreman, on Saturday.

Snyder discovered that some papers had been stuffed between some bags of beans and that although the paper and the ends of two sacks of beans had burned, the fire apparently had not reached the beans.

Sheriff Burns said he picked up Ron after residents had reported to him Ryan had been seen in the vicinity of the buildings that later were burned.

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Representative William Miller, R., Neb., today accused the Democrats of selling to private utilities "at cost or below" more than 13 per cent of the federal power produced in the period 1943-1952.

That amount of power was sold to Twin Falls; Charles W. Idaho warehouse, Hazelton; Idaho Power company, Piddly Nanton bank, Twin Falls; Twin Falls National and Trust company, Glen Ridge; Merchants, C. Rich, Burley; Richmond, Oakley; Earl McCaskey, Burley, and the Burley Chamber Commerce.

Hazelton, formerly was from New York and Chicago. He worked for Elmer Payne, owner of the First Segregation News, for three months in 1953 and then was picked up by the FBI in the summer of 1962, without leave from the news. In that time he did not provide for withdrawal when energy was needed by preference customers. Miller declared that the present municipal water plant and other public facilities which by law have priority to federally produced power.

Miller said that a man who worked for the newspaper until last March. After leaving the News-Review worked at odd jobs around Madison and St. Louis.

Broker Facing Theft Charges

senate labor subcommittee has accused a union official and an insurance broker of embezzling more than $900,000 collected for the Laundry Workers International union's welfare fund.

The charge was contained in a report yesterday from the subcommittee, headed by Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D., Ill. It investigated employee welfare funds in the garment industry.

The charge was based on a report by the subcommittee's staff, which said that the union official, James J. Connelley, and the insurance broker, William J. Connelley, had received $44,692,725 in utilities for delivery of 44,692,725 kilowatt hours.

The Plinters, Glencars and Gaulters union local at Chicago, the subcommittee also found that most of the money collected "went to the benefit" of the union president, Edward Gallagher. It said more than $100,000 was collected for the union.

The embezzlement charge was made against Louis B. Saparelian, Newark, N. J., insurance broker, and his partner, Joseph J. ANDERSON'S

WHEELRIG POT SHOTS

WASHINGTON—White House statement in current session with congress drawn to glory or weaken the friendly relations which President Eisenhower has enjoyed with Democrats on Capitol Hill. Several influential opposition figures are bold in saying that in which they believe that he has let them down.

For instance, Ike had no more sympathetic supporters than Sen. J. William Fulbright and Sen. Charles McNary of Arkansas, two highly respected Democrats. Inasmuch as McNary is a member of the House of Representatives, he is not eligible to be built on the Arkansas side of the Mississippi river in West Memphis, they favored it from the start.

The proposed 100 million dollar utility structure would have been an economic boon to their constituents, and political gain for them.

But when the city of Memphis provided an escape for the Republican, the situation was altered by promising to build its own generating facilities. Ike accepted the offer immediately. He left the Arkansas side of the river. Both wonder whether it is worth-while to string along with the man in the White House.

SEARCH FOR MAGIC LAMPS

The American people, those in the Pacific Northwest particularly, have heard a lot of argument pro and con over the power of Hells and the light over development of public canyons power resources has been fought with a vengeance. The people have been bombarded with such an array of conflicting statistics that it is doubtful if they can know the difference between Reddy Kilowatt and Davy Crockett.

With the possibility of electric power being generated by atomic energy in the near future, we wonder if too much emphasis is not being placed on comparisons of methods of production and administration. There is no doubt in our minds that the entire picture is being distorted by political prejudices.

Politicians have seized upon the private vs. public power issue as a football to be kicked around for a number of different purposes, and an extreme which becomes disgustingly distasteful.

To illustrate how all this agitation is exaggerated out of all reasonable proportions at times, we should like to call attention to a statement made by the National Electric Light Association, roundly table on natural resources recently by W. C. Mullendore, chairman of the board, Southern California Edison company.

"The cost of electric energy in the average family budget," he said, "is about 1 per cent. The average family's daily electric bill is 18 cents. Their daily tax bill (concealed and otherwise) is $5.00. A 4 per cent cut in their tax bill would add as much to their disposable income as would cancellation of their entire electric bill."

In these days of high tension and easy money, there is an avid search for magic lamps which will provide abundance without work. Desire leads to gullibility and, unfortunately, there are purveyors of panaceas upon every hill. - Perhaps this explains the mystery of how some Americans can be led to believe that there is a peculiar problem or some great issue involving electric power, the solution of which insures everlasting prosperity.

There is no magic by which government can avoid any of the real costs of power development. All that the government can do is to socialize some of the costs through tax exemption and avoidance of interference with the use of the public credit. Today, when the generation of taxes is an even more important function of business than is generation of power, a power project which does not generate taxes but instead adds to them is a distinctly inferior investment.

It is the representatives of government, therefore, to do the cloak of superior virtue with respect to a government power development which is avoiding the most important single cost and passing this tax burden on to the public at large.

"Citizens in government cannot develop power at less cost than can the private citizen. Government can conceal costs and distribute them arbitrarily to make lower charges possible to the electric utility than the cost of the taxpayer, but the real costs to the public as a whole of government development and production of power are greater than those of tax-paying industry."

GOO-GOO DOLLS

Nobody should breathe a word about this. It could get in the foreign press, then get picked up by the Russian newspapers and plastered all over.

Would the cause of democracy gain any glory if they know the cause of the struggle? It is something called go-go-go doll.

The counters that sell them are as busy as those which dispense Davy Crockett merchandise. Stores frequently sell out and the go-go-go dolls have to make several trips before the supply has caught up with the demand.

There's even an official song—and Pravda should hear about this! Its title is "Close the Door: They're Coming in the Window." Presumably "they" are the little men in white coats, come with their little black and white counting with the go-go-go doll squeakers.

Silly putty has had its day and bounced down the corridors of time. There was some point in it. It was a type of gum chewing device with the hands and supposed to be an ulcer preventative in that it relieved tensions.

At least it was silent. The go-go-go, popularized by Steve Allen, emits a plaintive sound which is halfway between a Pomeranian bark and a cat's purr.

If it relieves any tensions at all it must be those of a mother who, on hearing it, would presume that her baby was safe, though hungry.

We'd better keep this quiet—but very. And if Moscow should get wind of it, he's our answer.

The go-go-go is a sign of progress. It's automation—something like the electric brain. Now we don't even have to remember the complicated phrase like "dirty bird" or "this guy's gotta go." We just buy and squeeze. Peep-a-peep.

Youngsters get to do a lot more things by telling parents about them afterwards—instead of asking permission in the first place.

DEFIANCE OF CONGRESS RESENTED

National defense, Ike has enjoyed such prominent Democratic support that it is difficult to believe that the opposition's national defense board of experts. Both have been mentioned as possible presidential or vice-presidential candidates.

Questioning the administration's national defense policies, the force through a 46 million dollar appropriation to keep the stars at the present strength, and 400 more than he wants.

Now, Defense Secretary Wilson, obviously with presidential approval, says that he will improve the military in the future. Naturally, they resent what they regard as bureaucratic halfheartedness and defiance of congress.

BYRD ECONOMY MINDED

The ordinarily mild Gen. Henry P. Byrd of Virginia, the Democrats' expert on the economy, is becoming slightly skeptical of the administration's stand on this subject. While he did not decline openly for the job, he is not as enthusiastic as he once was.

Belief that Eisenhower would head up a more businesslike and money-minded government.

Byrd's criticism of the administration's stand on the economy is not as strong as it once was. He is not as enthusiastic as he once was.

INFLUENTIAL SENATORS

Not in this obscure and remote corner of the world, but in the heart of the nation, the influence of the senators is being felt. The influence of the senators is being felt. The influence of the senators is being felt.

There is no need to elaborate on the influence of the senators. The influence of the senators is being felt. The influence of the senators is being felt.

SELF-RELIANCE AND WEEDS

Leaders in the war on noxious weeds in Idaho, who met lately in convention at Weiser, were wisely advised by the state's leading weed expert, Dr. J. H. Johnson, that too many farmers are relying on the government to control weeds.

Four out of every five acres of cropland need treatment for weeds, he said, and the farmer should be his own weed control expert in order to beat the problem.

Weeds while not blighted, thistles and the rest—damage farm crops and cut down production. It's said that Idaho farmers could grow another 35 to 45 million bushels of wheat each year if they could lick their weed problem.

There is law that is operative at any rate in some Idaho counties which provides that each farmer must himself see to it that certain specified weeds on his property, or the county will step in and do the job, and charge the cost to the farmer. Under these circumstances, so long as the county has plenty of men fighting equipment, there's no advantage to be gained in waiting for "government" action; and farmers generally are in the care of the job themselves.

No serious, perhaps, but still a problem are the weeds that spring up and flourish in towns and cities. There too there are millions of dollars worth of loss to those in effect in the counties. In which the landowner or householder takes care of the nuisance himself, or pays someone else to do it for him.

Not unlike the problem of the weeds that make trouble in farm fields and urban property, are the weeds that are caused by bad habits and bad conduct of individuals and their relations of persons one with another.

Such weeds are weeds of violence, of treachery and of deceit. We have laws to deal with them. There are others such as idleness and sloth, boorishness, greed and thoughtlessness that disfigure personality and embitter human relationships and that are amenable to no law on the statute-books.

In coping with these weeds in human behavior, we do well to heed the advice given to the fighters of the weeds of the fields, and rely not too much on government.

For our own protection against misconduct by others we do well to appeal to agencies of government and the law. But for our own best interests, we should be exceedingly well to accept responsibility and root out those alien developments that mar and cut down our own life, and that are a capacity for enjoyment of living.—Doris Staatsman.

COLOR CONFIDENCE

Those who are dubious that the current rushing to and fro of diplomats means that "peace is built" out of all over" may possibly find greater conviction by a look at the domestic scene. Menstruating the body of public mood are great significances in the way "color" is built out of all over—in automobiles, houses, men's attire, and in the very phraseology of the day. There is a feeling of national security caused by prosperity and the lessening of war tensions. A sales manager for a national automobile company, believes material conditions are creating a desire to celebrate existing conditions.

That is not so. It should be a great year for automobiles. Not only are there more cars but the automobile is expected but it should have wider variety of shades than the 400 utilized this year. A fall preview of men's hats, shoes, jewelry, and clothing—overseas—overseas husbands also is regarded as proof of humanity's wayward mood.

It is to be hoped that this theory is right. Yet the brown shades of the 1930s and 1930s were also a time of confidence in the future, judging from the industrial expansion that went on. And so may we come on their heels. As the electric light dispelled the darkness, so possibly the development of new industries, as chemicals, aviation, and automation, are making things more colorful today. Whatever the cause, business is likely to benefit, as there quickly comes a time when one tired of the drabness of the world by his lavender limousine or pink hat.—Washington Post.

YOU GOT FEET, BUDDY!

If you have any friends in Idaho, particularly ones who attend ball games in Twin Falls, you give me a list of their names? It's very important.

I'm trying to line up a ride to Twin Falls next Monday night so I can watch the Ogdon-Cowboy baseball game. That isn't the most important event of the evening, however, I expect to be called down on the field to take possession of that new car.

So the people who give me a ride to Twin won't have to wait for me. I'll be driving home.

There's nothing that'll quite take the place of confidence. You have to have plenty of confidence in yourself to get ahead in life.

OUR BULLETIN BOARD

Member of the Board of Race and American Citizens, Wendell—Your reaction certainly would earmark you as a member of the human race, but you don't appear sufficiently broadminded to qualify as an American citizen. We definitely aren't of "em"! Did the display hurt anyone? Was anyone forced to join? Perhaps it was poor taste on the part of some officials, but certainly there's no reason to boot anyone in the teeth. Now is there?

PUPS FOR KIDS DEPT.

Pol. Rhoda: Have three cocker pups 5 weeks old, three females and one male. They weigh 14 to 16 pounds. Their mother is a small black dog in a large coker. He is black, also. Phone 6297-13 (Jerome)

Dave Hanning, who lives two miles south of Five Points east and one-half mile north of the highway, is eight miles east on the right side of the road, has three female terrier pups 8 months old to give away. Two are black and white and the other is brown and black.

Dear Pot Shoth: We have five collie puppies 6 weeks old that we will give to any boy or girl. We live three miles west and two and one-half miles north of town. We want phone Twin Falls 6298-13. Ernest Thacker.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

Dangerous Age for Men

As B. Baruch, 85, Does

BY HENRY McMEHRE

My first reaction when I read that Bernard Baruch had begun trying to do a back-lip into the "wonder pool" was to wonder what kind of advice the 85-year-old man was giving. I am a fan of Baruch for half a century or more; that age who apparently still has the vigor of a 40-year-old man, is a man who has been handing out advice on a place on the Olympic diving team. I don't figure that a man who can hand out cool, calm and collected advice. But the more I thought about that back-lip the more I realized that it probably was a more helpful act on Mr. Baruch's part than anything he could be doing to teach a lesson to American youth.

The lesson is, of course, act your age.

I am at what is known as the dangerous age for husbands. I am 85. I am named "When a husband reaches the high forties he feels that he is getting old. He feels that he could barely manage when he was 25. Medical science should develop a sort of "wonder pool" to help the old man who would prefer to stand on his own feet at a speed which is a little slower than the speed of a young man.

What causes a fortyish husband to all but kill himself for nothing? It is the desire to impress his wife. Surely a wife's love for her husband is based on something more substantial than the fact that he can still climb a tree to get a bad-minton ball instead of having to stand on a ladder and poke it down with a broom handle.

I certainly don't want to believe that Mary would love me more if I could stand on my hands on the beach, or that her heart would beat faster if I got up every morning, slipped on a pair of running treads, and galloped 10 miles in a time comparable to that of a college cross-country runner. It would be disheartening to find out that Juliet was not so lovely because he was the best husband thrower around, or that Beatrice died on a date because he could not climb a tree to get a bad-minton ball.

What else is it that makes a man who is 40-plus feel like a child? It is the desire to impress his wife. It is the desire to impress his wife. It is the desire to impress his wife.

Salk Anti-Polio Inoculation Programs Slow Down, Top Reasons Are Given

By United Press

The Salk anti-polio inoculation program has slowed down so that communities have some ahead with the second shots or plan to do so during the remaining summer weeks.

A shortage of vaccine, the scarcity of children on their summer holidays, the vacation absence of doctors, nurses, teachers and clerical help and a reluctance on the part of many parents to go ahead with the second shot in the polio season are the reasons.

The United Press polled its bureaus across the nation to find out what the countryside situation is. It discovered that, in general, the western states are tending more to go ahead with completing second shots than other sections of the country.

In New England the situation is simply that the states have not received sufficient vaccine yet for second shots.

In California, on the other hand, 31 of the 58 counties already have completed the second shots. Los Angeles, however, has not yet decided whether it will finish the program.

Texas is going ahead with second shots. Fort Worth is the only big town there to hold out for fall inoculations. Houston had planned a mass vaccination in the city's ball park but now has decided to distribute the vaccine to 25 clinics instead.

Illinois has called off the entire program until "after Nov. 1 or later." Chicago administered the first shot, then decided not to give the second because of polio incidence in summer. The stocks of vaccine have been put in storage.

In the southeastern states, the majority of communities are going ahead with the program. Georgia reports, however, about 40 per cent absenteeism on second shots. Inoculations in Louisiana dropped from 87.9 the first time to 32.50, due mostly to the difficulty of getting children together.

Avoided

Idaho is not mentioned in this survey story although the polio inoculation program has come to a dead stop in Idaho.

Vaccine containing live virus resulted in polio cases among children who received the vaccine. Subsequently, polio virus became widespread in the state, resulting in 125 cases of the disease so far this year.

state legislature voted two million dollars to give all children free shots. State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert Heaslip said "we are not afraid of the vaccine and are not afraid of it either."

Some $55,000 cc's of vaccine allocated to New York state are expected to arrive at the state capital, Albany, on Wednesday and shots will be given as soon thereafter as possible. Officials said the supply will be used for second and booster shots.

In New Jersey, many communities have postponed the program until after the polio season.

In Indiana most towns are adopting a "wait and see" policy. Of 30 counties offered vaccine for the second round, 19 turned it down because of children being on vacation.

In Nebraska, Dr. Edwin Lyman, Omaha health director, is making no plans until more vaccine is received. "Residents are confused and disgusted with the way the vaccine situation has been handled," he said.

In Iowa only two counties have completed second shots. Des Moines health groups recommended postponement until fall.

North and South Dakota are going ahead. Most communities in Pennsylvania will give second shots as soon as they get vaccine. But in Minnesota, Tennessee, Maryland, Delaware and most of Ohio the program will not be resumed until schools reopen. St. Louis is another of the big cities which will wait until autumn.

The Washington, D. C., medical advisory committee recommended against giving shots in the polio season. Also officials in the capital felt they could roundup only about half the children.

to the poor redman ended up behind bars.

Det. Frank Martorella was one of four detectives who have been trying for weeks to get something on Henry Geronimo Berrelle, 39, whom they suspected as a dope peddler.

But each time they frisked him no weapons were found on him.

Wednesday, the quarrel picked him up again and again a frisk revealed no weapons.

But on ex-barbelle Mariorella gazed appreciatively at Serrette, a great lights suddenly dawned on the detective.

"His hair-it isn't real!" Mariorella exclaimed. With lightning speed she snatched the wig from the man and stripped Serrette of his head of hair.

Underneath the wig, Mariorella saw, were hidden five small packages of dope.

Panel Studies Plan for Red Blinker Light

SHOENHART, July 28.—The purchase of red flasher lights for intersections on North and South main streets in U.S. 92 is being considered by the city council.

A discussion on the need for better traffic patterns was conducted at a council meeting Tuesday night. State Patrolman W. J. Baker, Shoshone, Police Chief Jack Meyers and a state highway assistant traffic engineer from Boise met with the board to discuss the matter.

Officials suggested the city ask the railroad for an underpass on the highway 60 crossing. No action was taken on the suggestion but the matter will be referred to the city planning commission.

The council decided to call for bids for the construction of a new room at the Mary E. Gooding park. Opening of the bids will be held at 2 p.m. Aug. 5 at the city hall. One bid received Tuesday, was kept until the official opening date.

The city budget was approved at $70,440.59. The 1944-45 levy includes 25 mills for the general fund, three mills for the library, two mills for the fire department, three mills for the recreation fund and six mills for street lighting. The levy will bring in $22,000 with other anticipated revenue amounting to about $48,000. Cash on hand amounts to $21,000.

Military Help Is Asked for Defense Pact

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Civil Defense Administrator Vol Peterson said today he would like to have military help in event of H-bomb attack.

In an interview on the decision of several other nations to join the defense responsibility over to the military, Peterson expressed a desire that:

1. All draftees be trained in civil defense work.
2. Military reservists serve in civil defense work.
3. Military reservists serve in civil defense work.
4. Some units of the regular military establishment be made available for civil defense work.

Need Cited
If atomic or hydrogen attack comes on most of a city's population, Peterson said, it also will wipe out most of the civil defense workers. This would make it necessary to move in trained fire fighters and first aid and rescue teams as soon as possible.

Peterson said he and his aides are carefully studying programs in Great Britain, Norway, Sweden and Denmark where the military is being used in civil defense responsibilities.

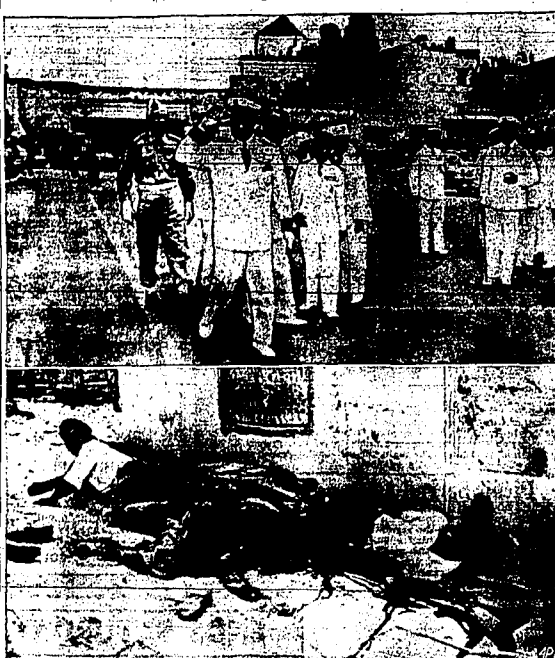

Some Concepts
The Scandinavian countries conscript youths into their civil defense organizations.

Great Britain is creating 48 battalions of 600 men each for a "mobile defense corps," trained and equipped to move into the defense of cities in case of a city blitzed by an H-bomb.

Peterson said a lot of approaches are under consideration here. Virtually all of them require special training, he said. He described his remarks about military help as "expressing desires."

When a male bird has incubated its eggs, the female, he usually takes his turn in brooding the eggs, but when he is brilliantly colored, he usually stays away from the nest.

Visit Touches Off Riots

French Resident General Gilbert Grandval (top) salutes in McKees, French Morocco, during visit which resulted in bloody clashes between troops and nationalists. A dead nationalist rioter and two wounded companions (below) lie on street after fighting which left 15 nationalists dead and many more injured. Action Sought To Aid in Big Spud Surplus YAKIMA, July 28.—A special committee of potato growers and buyers yesterday recommended action that would remove about 45 percent of Washington potatoes from the market.

The action was taken by the Washington potato committee. Following the meeting Fred Ramsey, committee manager, said the committee will recommend to the secretary of agriculture that all No. 2 potatoes be withheld from the fresh market to eliminate some of the depressing surplus.

Ramsey said practically no market exists for Washington potatoes added, "we're way behind in shipments." He said only between 30 and 100 cars have been shipped in the state this year, compared to 1,000 last year at this time.

The committee also recommended the minimum size on the round variety be increased from 1 1/2 inches to 2 inches and that the minimum size of long varieties be increased from 2 inches or 4 ounces to a minimum of 5 ounces.

Ramsey said the 8 members of the potato committee favored asking the secretary of agriculture to encourage all other potato-growing areas to take similar action.

The meeting was attended by 100 growers and shippers from Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Colorado.

Profit Shown

SHOENHART, July 28.—A financial report on the Shoshone Vigilante Days dance, given by Fred Schwartz at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday noon, showed a slight profit.

Repairs and added equipment purchased for the event, which will be used in the future, brought the fund to within $20 of the profit made.

Merchants' displays for the county fair were discussed. A change of time for holding the street races was proposed but the final decision was left up to the committee in charge.

Nearly every member of the chieftains tribe of southeastern Idaho smoked tobacco. The native leaf is used by children as young as 4 years.

One-Time GI Changes Sex, Now Is Wed

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 28.—The marriage of a former paratrooper, who claimed he had become a woman through sex surgery, to a woman he had met in Reno, was disclosed today.

The bride was Tamara Edel Reza, 31, who, as a man, fathered two children and made four jumps behind enemy lines as a paratrooper in World War II. Tamara claimed that an operation in Amsterdam, Holland, in 1954 changed her into a woman.

The bride, now making a series of "psychological" lectures in California, confirmed the marriage and identified the bridegroom as J. E. Courland, III. The marriage took place Saturday in Reno, Nev., she said.

"It was not a case of love at first sight," the former twice-decorated GI explained. "In fact, I didn't even ask me for a date until two or three days later."

Courland, who is accompanying his bride on the lecture tour as business manager, was not immediately available for comment.

Tamara, as Robert Reza, was married to a North Carolina girl from whom he was divorced in 1946. They had two children.

When interviewed in Sacramento shortly after returning from her trip abroad when the operation was performed last November, Tamara had greeted newsmen in a bathroom and pin-curlers, with a faint stubble of beard, showing. She gave her natural measurements at the time as 35; 24 and 36, explaining "hormones." At the time she said she was engaged to an engineering student she met in Holland.

Peron's Forces Cited by Church

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 28.—The Argentine Roman Catholic hierarchy charged the Peron government yesterday with systematic and relentless persecution of the church. In a white paper published here, the Argentine Catholic hierarchy demanded repeal of such measures as the legalization of divorce and prostitution, abolition of some religious holidays, curbing of outdoor religious events and suppression of religious instruction in government schools.

WHY SAFEWAY DOES NOT OFFER TRADING STAMPS

A RETAIL FOOD STORE taking on a trading stamp plan takes on a big extra expense. Stores offering stamps have admitted they cost from 25c to 50c on $10 of sales. This is really a big money when you consider that normal food store profit is about 15c to 25c on $10 of sales.

WE KNOW SAFEWAY could not offer stamps without raising prices or lowering quality standards. (Our net profit has not been as much as 20c on $10 of sales since 1931. We don't believe we would be serving our customer's best interests by adding the cost of stamps to the cost of food.)

Views Shown On Possibility Ike Will Run

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—The small minority of politicians who doubt that President Eisenhower will be a second term candidate will get some support from the roiling of opinion whipped up by the big four conference.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was rather pessimistic before the summit meeting. He told his news conference that the danger of war has receded. The thought is echoed from London and Paris, even Moscow.

The most logical argument against a second Eisenhower term has run like this: If world tensions can be substantially relieved and the danger of war put away for some reasonably assured span of years, the President could say "this constitution was complete, and step down."

There is cause to believe such reasoning has passed through Mr. Eisenhower's mind. There are opposing arguments, of course. The bone crusher is that the Republicans do not as of now have another candidate with even a faint chance of beating a good Democratic candidate.

But if peace were assured for some years, the President might feel that he could turn his back on the party which plucked him for the highest honor an American citizen may enjoy. That's the way the argument goes.

It goes along pretty well until it hits a solid political fact. That fact is that the ponderous machinery of international relations which began turning in a new direction at Geneva is not likely to move very fast.

It will not be a work of weeks or, even, of a few months. Mr. Eisenhower has only about five months after the foreign ministers meet to decide and declare publicly whether he will run again. He is committed to that schedule two ways. First, he told his news conference last March 2 that he would detail his 1956 plans about one year from then. Second, if he fails to move one way or another by March 15, or thereabouts, he will bring down on the Republican party a calamitous blow.

Women Meet

JEROME, July 28—Members of the Business and Professional Women's club held a picnic in the city park Monday night. In charge of arrangements were Mrs. Jewell Dewey, Mary Moeller, Mrs. Phany Vinyard and Mrs. Elsie Williams. During the business meeting plans to enter a float in the fair and rodeo parade were made. Edith Neel was named as chairman of the committee to arrange for the float.

School Seeks Rehabilitation of Young Offenders in Class on Auto Repairing

ST. ANTHONY, July 28—How rehabilitation of juvenile delinquents is accomplished through trade instruction, at the Idaho industrial training school here was explained Thursday by James Johnson, vocational instructor of the school's auto body and fender shop.

The shop was established in September, 1954, "in an effort to provide some of the boys committed to the school's care with vocational training in a well-paid open trade," Johnson noted.

Boys were selected following an extensive testing program carried out by the school's psychiatrist, interest, aptitude, intelligence, age and willingness to work were taken into consideration for final selection. Of more than 40 of the most promising boys, 10 finally were selected.

"The rapid progress displayed by these boys," commented Johnson, "reassures my convictions that delinquents are neither lazy nor unintelligent—only misguided. As their energies are channeled in a socially acceptable path, they quickly lose their interest in acts aimed against society."

No job seems too difficult for the group. In fact, Johnson noted, the course depends upon wrecks which most shops will not undertake.

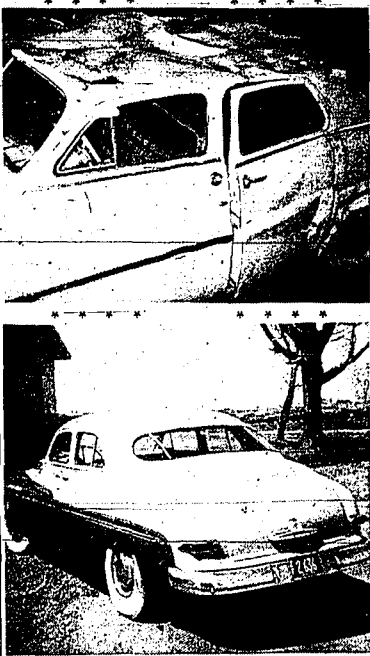

The cooperation of car dealers is especially solicited and appreciated, Johnson said. When a dealer takes a damaged car in on trade he cannot afford to have his shop men spend the necessary time to repair the unit without losing money on the entire transaction. The alternative is to "total out" the vehicle that is, strip it for usable parts and sell the rest for junk. The industrial school shop will accept these "total" and repair them for the dealer who supplies all needed parts and materials. Since it is experience in metal work Johnson is seeking for the boys, nearly all body parts are salvaged rather than replaced.

No job is accepted which is covered by insurance for the shop. Not competing for work against other shops, "it is not the intention of the shop to make profits with free labor, but to train kids, who lack formal education, in a trade which will provide them with a living wage," said the instructor.

Upon completion of the course, interest is made to place the boys in body work or in near their home areas. In order that rehabilitative processes can continue, it is imperative that these lads be placed in shops where they can continue vocational education and gradually become integrated into the community," he noted.

Work in the class is suspended during the summer months, but begins again in the fall. Dealers who have their own body shops are urged to contact the industrial school for further information regarding class work or apprentice body men.

At this time that the public will observe paroled juveniles as possible assets to society rather than embittered children seeking revenge, the better will be the juvenile institutions' chance of reclaiming human lives," Johnson concluded.

The battered auto, top, is transformed into the sleek vehicle, below, after it was reclaimed by students assigned to the body and fender shop of the state industrial training school at St. Anthony. (Staff engravings)

Top Buys Set In Beef, Pork; Cuts of Lamb

By The Associated Press

You may be able to serve up a tempting Sunday dinner for a little less money this week-end: Good buys are available in pork and lamb and in some cuts of beef.

Chuck roast again rates as No. 1 among the better buys in beef, and selected markets over the country will have prices on prime ribs.

Or would a roast, loin of pork be more to your liking? Pork is down at wholesale and the meat markets have cut their prices from a week ago.

Frying chickens will be fairly popular as week-end specials. A number of markets will feature turkeys at reasonable prices.

Looking ahead to August, the U. S. department of agriculture says broilers and fryers will be attractive buys. Supplies will rise to high levels during that month, running about 5 per cent above marketings in June.

Also on the USDA list of August plentiful are canned grapefruit sections, beef, potatoes, summer vegetables, fresh and frozen halibut, lemons and limes, rice, watermelons and milk and other dairy products.

Choose your vegetables with a little extra care this week. The specialists say that quality generally isn't as good as it was a week ago.

Priest Shortage Is Eyed in Meet

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 28 (AP)—South American Catholic leaders studied the possibility today of bringing foreign clergy to Latin America to relieve the shortage of priests.

Delegates to the general conference of Latin American hierarchy considered the clergy shortage, a major topic of their 10-day meeting, reported as the most important Catholic assembly ever held in South America.

Electrical Storms Frighten Eskimo

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, July 28 (AP)—It wasn't the heat so much as the lightning and thunder that bothered Eskimos during this week's hot spell in the north country.

While the temperature rose to a scorching 83 at the peak of the heat wave in this interior city Monday, it reached 80 at the Eskimo village of Wainwright on the Arctic coast.

The heat brought the rare phenomena of lightning and thunder to the Arctic region, and many of the Eskimos were reported to have been frightened by the display. Some of the avestruck natives saw the flashes and heard the thunder for the first time in their lives.

Denies Charge

JEROME, July 28—R. L. Morse, Jerome, appeared before Probate Judge Thomas W. Ward Monday and pleaded innocent to a charge of issuing a check without sufficient funds in the bank. The complaint was signed by E. Pielack and the check for $119.95 was written to Rice Chevrolet.

Morse was arrested in Brunau, he waived trial by jury and Judge Ward set bond at $50. No time has been set for trial.

Citizens' Role Politics Shown

SEATTLE, July 28 (AP)—A national conference on the role of the citizen in politics was held here last night and today.

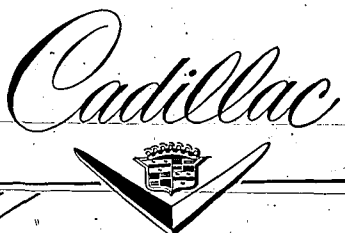

The call was issued by the Citizens' Committee for the Defense of the Constitution, a group of politicians that has been active in the defense of the constitution against the New Deal.

Callop, who directed the defense against the New Deal, said that the call was issued by the Citizens' Committee for the Defense of the Constitution, a group of politicians that has been active in the defense of the constitution against the New Deal.

Cadillac

The Great Practical Luxury!

This message is addressed particularly to those who have been thinking about purchasing a Cadillac—but who, for one reason or another, have not considered acting on the impulse this year.

For you, there is interesting and valuable information in the paragraphs which follow.

In the first place, there is no reason why anyone should ever put off ordering a Cadillac—once the decision for ownership has been made. For a Cadillac represents one of the soundest and most practical investments in the automotive world.

You can become the owner of a 1955 Cadillac for little more than you would pay for many so-called medium-price cars.

And this is only half the picture, insofar as cost is concerned. For when the time comes to sell your Cadillac, you will find that the car has held its value far beyond anything you could logically expect.

Authoritative price figures, based on year-after-year studies, reveal that a Cadillac may be expected to return its owner a larger share of his original investment than any other motor car built in the last decade.

And then consider Cadillac's economy of operation. The car will run as far as a gallon of gasoline to most standard automobiles—and it is so soundly built and so soundly engineered that it is all but free from any save routine service requirements.

And here is the most interesting news of all. If you act quickly, the chances are that you can now get delivery of a 1955 Cadillac.

True, we have a backlog of Cadillac orders—many of these are for future delivery or for special combinations not now available.

So—if you have thought of owning a Cadillac come in now. Because of our low used car inventory we are in an excellent position to make you a liberal allowance on your present car.

We have a Cadillac waiting to give you the most thrilling demonstration of your life. Why not order it today?

Soroptimists Plan Concert Project Here

A two-program concert series beginning in September, will be sponsored by the Twin Falls Soroptimist club.

Meeting Tuesday evening, members voted to sponsor the series to raise funds for the promotion of civic projects. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Doris Stridley, Twin Falls.

During a short business session conducted by Mrs. John Leiser, president, committees were appointed for 1955-56.

They include classification and membership; Mrs. Sterling Larsen, chairman, and Helen Brown, Mrs. Irene Becker and Mrs. Irene Oliver; publicity; Mrs. Christine Peterson, chairman, and Mrs. Ray Henderson; program; Mrs. George H. Sisk, chairman, and Mrs. Florence Gardner and Mrs. L. L. Landson.

Parliamentarian: Mrs. Ruth Edmunds; hospitality: Mrs. Nellie Ostrom Babcock, chairman, and Hazel Bowden and Mrs. Rose North; budget: Mrs. Edmunds, chairman, and Mrs. Becker and Mrs. Eucari Shirley; installation: Mrs. Mary Salmon, chairman, and Mrs. Earl Paulsen and Mrs. Olliver.

By-laws: Miss Bowden, chairman, and Mrs. Ed Malberg; extension: Mrs. North, chairman, and Mrs. Stanley Phillips and Mrs. Florence Dwyer; historian: Mrs. Peterson, chairman, and Mrs. Henderson; service: Lucille Wolfe, chairman, and Miss Brown, Mrs. Tania Bellini and Mrs. Gardner.

Conventions: Mrs. U. N. Terry, chairman; bulletin: Mrs. Emma Bothwell, chairman, and Miss Wolfe and Mrs. Larsen; calling: Miss Henderson, chairman, and Miss Brown and Mrs. Bothwell.

The club's August picnic will be held at the home of Mrs. Earl Paulsen, 700 Blue Lake boulevard north, on Aug. 23.

Nurses to Meet

RUPERT, July 28.—Mrs. Carl Galt, president of the Twin Falls district 11 nurses association, announced that a special meeting will be held at the College hospital in Burley for all nurses at 8 p.m. Monday.

Information pertaining to the convention to be held in Twin Falls in October will be presented.

American Know-How

Official Lauds Private Funds For Programs

BOISE, July 28.—Asst. U.S. Agriculture Secretary E. L. Peterson declared last night that the federal government should play a cooperative role in developing the nation's resources, staying out of those areas where private and local groups can do the job.

He arrived in Boise to present superior unit citation awards to the wider river soil conservation district and the Boise national forest unit of the U.S. forest service.

Peterson, a former agriculture commissioner of Oregon, told a picnic gathering that "federal responsibility generally should be limited to those programs which are not competitive with alternative means of obtaining effective use of our resources."

"Every reasonable encouragement should be given for the participation of private enterprise and local and state government in resource development," he said. "While as a land management agency, the federal government has responsibility in a proprietary sense for lands and federal ownership, its management of those lands must be such as to make the maximum contribution to the economy in the development of the states and their local communities."

GROUP ENTERTAINED

SHOSHONE, July 28.—Members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship were guests of the Gooding church youth group at a watermelon treat and swimming party at Gooding Thursday evening.

Two-Headed Snake Finds Life Complex

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 28.—The old theory that two heads are better than one may be true—but not as far as snakes are concerned. For almost two years, C. S. Shaw, who is in charge of reptiles at the San Diego zoo, has been working with a two-headed snake. He has found that eating for it calls for some double-minded thinking on its part.

The snake, which goes under the name of Duplex, has two normal heads which are completely separated. They are joined in a single body by a common vertebral column about half an inch behind the rear of the heads.

Life with two heads can be rather trying at times, even for a snake or "maybe especially" for a snake. Feeding time, for example, poses the problem of which head is going to eat the dinner for the single body.

Duplex seems to have a very normal snake mind in each of its heads. Usually at feeding time, however, the right head is more dominant than the left. But sometimes, there is an argument over whom.

Fights Over Mouse. On one occasion, the two-headed snake was offered a fat mouse. The left head, which usually passes up such delicacies, grabbed the mouse by the head. The right head immediately snatched the mouse by the tail and the two heads started a hassle over who was going to do the swallowing. Eventually, the snake put its heads together, muffled its over and decided to share the mouse.

Skin shedding, a normal process in a snake's life, generally is difficult for Duplex because of the forcing of his two short necks for the single body.

On one occasion when Duplex was observed unbuttoning his skin, the right head initiated the action. The left head worked hard at it until it reached the point where the two heads are joined. Then it knocked off the job for a while. Four hours later, the left head joined the party, doffing its skin until it reached the junction point.

Work Together. A few hours later, both heads got in gear and worked together until the skin went the way of all flesh. Anyone who has watched some-one else yawn and then yawned himself can sympathize with another problem of the two-headed snake.

KNOTHOLE NEWS

The Piler Merchants beat the Piler Sluggers 2-0 in Wednesday's Knott-Hole News baseball league game. A homer was scored by Larry Miller, Piler; triples were hit by Gene Flint for the Sluggers and Jim Binkley for Piler, and a two-bagger was hit by Claydon Allen for Piler.

The Warberg Heaters scored the Arctic Circle Builders and David Johnson for the Heaters socked three-baggers and Bill Newberry for the Builders hit a double.

A close game between the Equitable Life Insurance Terriers and the Arctic Investment Uranium Kings ended 1 to 6 for the Terriers. The Terriers' Bob Evans hit a double.

The Seven-Up Bulldogs grabbed Krenzel's Hardware Cardinal 22-0 with Brad Humphreys of the Bulldogs swatting a three-bagger. The Bulldogs' Jim Bogar hit two doubles, and a two-bagger each was scored by Larry Kay of the Bulldogs and Cardinal's Steven Feldman and Howard Benton.

The Typhoons downed the Hansen Fireballs 10 to 2 with Typhoon hitters David Stevens, Jim Moore and James Davies knocking doubles. Scoring a two-bagger for the Fireballs was Dean Kendrick.

The Piler Merchants whipped the Walker Tigers 13-2. The Mountain States Super forfeited to the Dettler Wranglers.

Not so long ago, the left head of Duplex opened his mouth and gave out with a wide and lazy yawn. The right head observed the action and followed with a yawn which rivaled that of the left head.

Zoo officials say it only goes to show that perhaps yawns are just as contagious in two-headed snakes as they are in human beings. Plants are the only form of life which can make sugars from which all other foods are made.

Yank Credited With Breaking Talk Deadlock

PARIS, July 28.—Premier Edgar Faure disclosed yesterday that a fast hour proposal by President Eisenhower broke the deadlock in the Geneva summit conference and ensured its success.

The French premier also indicated in an exclusive interview that he personally would now favor a 3 1/2 day conference on the far east that would include Communist China.

Faure summed up his impression of the historic meeting where he represented France at its first summit appearance with a prediction the Big Four foreign ministers could make easy progress when they meet in October on improving east-west contacts perhaps on disarmament, too.

But he warned that reunifying Germany would be the really difficult problem.

Faure said the Geneva conference will mark the end of the cold war "in so far as it shows a common will to settle international problems peacefully."

A SMART NEW VIEW

of a Modern Brew

Modern is the word for today's Bohemian beer. Produced in a spotless plant, equipped with the latest facilities and testing techniques, it is as modern a brew as it is possible to find. Still present, though, is that same expensive, old-world care which long ago earned for Bohemian the title of "the beer of good taste."

And now it wears a modern new label. Reach for this package in your food or beverage store. Ask for it at your tavern. Learn, for yourself, why today's Bohemian is — more than ever — "the beer of good taste."

German Woman Comes to U.S. In Army Trade

PT. RILEY, Kans., July 28 (AP)—Blue-eyed, Auburn-haired, Emilie Turney has just finished the task of moving her household—some 5,000 miles.

Emilie is an army wife whose husband is among the thousands of soldiers participating in "operation gyroscope." In this gigantic move, 9,000 members of the historic first infantry division in Germany are trading places with the 10th division at Ft. Riley.

The vanguard of the first division arrived here Monday.

Wednesday Emilie, her two children and her husband, Clifford, will established in a rented house in nearby Junction City—and already are talking about buying a home of their own.

Smith's task of setting up a new household in the United States was an added complication. In addition to her household duties and caring for her 18-month-old daughter, Patricia, and 4-month-old son, Billy, she has a language barrier.

A German girl, she speaks and understands English, but her husband still must interpret fast-moving conversation for her.

She loves the supermarket. "It's good, fine. You can buy anything there," she said.

She added that over there "everything is like the shops, the cafes and the service is much better."

apprenticeship—studies three years to be a waiter. Dresses cost less here but they're made better in Germany," I think.

My husband had a new television set delivered to their home seven days after their arrival. They're counting on it for more than just entertainment. It'll give Emilie a steady diet of spoken English—with explanatory action.

BOARDING HOUSE - MAJOR HOOPLE

BOARD, ROY! I MET A CHARMING GENTLEMAN IN THE HOTEL...
CH, WE ALWAYS KNEW YOU WERE BLUEBLOOD...
YOU SAY HE'S A GELERMAN? DOES THAT MEAN HE BEAT YOU TO THE DRAW ON A DINNER TAB?

LIFE'S LIKE THAT By NEHER

... If it looks like rain when you come along, Mr. Baker, do you mind bringing in my laundry?

THE GUMPS

MORTENSE, DEAR - I JUST CAN'T REST NIGHTS ON MY BEAUTIFUL NEW MATTRESS, WHEN I THINK OF YOU WHINS ON MY LUMPY OLD ONE -
DON'T LET IT DISTURB YOU, DEAR LADY GLADYS -
SINCE IT MADE YOU SO UNHAPPY, I DECIDED NOT TO USE IT ANY MORE EITHER - REALLY?! W-WHAT DID YOU DO WITH IT?
I HAD IT... BURNED! LADY GLADYS FAINTED!
